POLITICAL.

New Hampshire Democratic Convention—The Nomination of Governor.

CONCORD, N. H., January 16.—The Democratic State Convention met to-day. About five hundred delegates were present. Hon. Edmund Burke, of Keen, was President. Hon. John G. Sinclair, of Bethelem, was re-nominated for Governor by acclamation. The resolutions adopted approve of holding a National Union Convention in New York; state that New Hampshire Democrats adhere to their past principles, and insist that the powers of the federal government are limited by the Constitution, and that all other powers are reserved for State.

The resolutions hold that the right of extending suffrage belongs to States alone; all States have the right of representation in Congress; that the United States Supreme Court has manifested, by its recent decisions, respect for the only authority which has legitimate power; tenders thanks to President Johnson for his support of constitutional rights, and hold that the impartial imposition of the burdens of taxation is needed in the State; declares that efforts to subvert the Executive are rebellious, and pledges support to the nominees of the Convention. After brief addresses the Convention adjourned.

FROM FRANKFORT, KY.

A Destructive Incendiary Fire—$100,000 Worth of Property Destroyed—County Buildings Burned.

FRANKFORT, KY., January 16.—At half-past six o'clock to-night, an incendiary fired a stable on Main street, near St. Clair, which was burned, and also two tenement houses on Main street, the property of Miss Majors.

The fire communicated thence to the jail and county and District offices, which were consumed, but the papers were saved. The loss is estimated at one hundred thousand dollars; small insurance.

The fire caused the greatest excitement; as the weather was intensely cold a long time elapsed before the water could be got into play. A fortunate fall of snow in the early part of the evening prevented an extended conflagration from igniting by the flying cinders.

SYMPATHY FOR THE CRETANS IN THEIR REVOLT.

NEW YORK, Jan.—The Tribune's Syria correspondence says:

"The enthusiasm of the Greeks has been fairly roused in favor of the insurgents, and the people of the South of Greece are hastening forward in large numbers to aid the Cretans in their desperate struggle against the Turks. The captain of an English gunboat, moved by sympathy for the suffering Cretans, had received certain fugitives on board his vessel and conveyed them to a place of safety. This act has been disclaimed by his Government, and the gunboat withdrawn from Crete. Meanwhile, the American Consul, it is reported, has applied to our Government for permission to employ one of the vessels at his command in removing non-combatants from Crete. Sympathy with the Cretans is spreading on all sides."

HARRISBURG, Jan. 17, 1866.

SENATE.

The Equal Rights Association presented a petition against the passage of the Constitutional Amendments.

Mr. Bigham presented a petition in favor of vacating Spruce alley, in the Ninth ward, Pittsburgh.

The following bills in place were read:

Mr. Brown, of Lawrence, an act to protect joint tenants and others; also, an act to repeal the act relative to bounties in Brady township, Butler county. Passed.

Mr. Bigham, an act to incorporate the People's Bank of Pittsburgh.

On motion of Gen. McCandles, the Senate unanimously resolved to pay their respects to the retiring Governor.

At the afternoon session Senator Bigham concluded his speech on the Constitutional Amendment, when the Senate adjourned until seven o'clock.

HOUSE.

The Committee on the contested seat of Colonel Linton were drawn, and ordered to meet at three o'clock this afternoon.

The Senate met the House in joint convention, agreeable to the acts of Congress and of the Legislature, to count the vote for United States Senator, when Simon Cameron was decided to have been legally elected.

The House then adjourned to bid farewell to the retiring Governor, who addressed them, thanking them for the aid they had rendered him in the discharge of his official duties during the six years he had occupied the Gubernatorial Chair, and commended to their special care the wounded soldiers and the children of those who fell in the late war.

After bidding them an affectionate farewell, Governor Curtin took his departure from Harrisburg.

The Remains of Gen. Sydney Johnston—The Freedmen Making Contracts Very Rapidly—Meeting of the U. S. Court.

GALVESTON, January 16.—The chairman of the Legislative Committee to remove the remains of General Sydney Johnston from New Orleans and deposit them in the State cemetery at Austin, left on his mission to-day.

The Freedmen's Bureau reports the freedmen contracting for the year's labor with great rapidity. Importations of Georgia freedmeen arrive almost every steamer.

GALVESON, Texas, January 15.—It is reported that Governor Throckmorton proposes to call a special session of the Legislature.

Judge Duval, United States Judge of the Western District of Texas, has delivered a stirring charge to the Grand Jury. He quotes at length from the Constitution and Amnesty Proclamation, and says there is reason to believe that some persons have violated the conditions on which they obtained amnesty, and they should be visited with the punishment their infamy deserves. The man who avails himself of the generosity of the Government to obtain exemption from punishment, and then violates his oath, is more guilty than one never pardoned. He also, in strong terms, advises the punishment of all who fail to avail themselves of the amnesty proclamation.

The Austin Intelligencer says: W. G Council, who was assassinated at Novasoto, was United States Marshal. He was to summon thirty-five witnesses for Judge Duval's Court, and this is supposed to have been the cause of the murder.

AN IMPROBABLE STATEMENT.

It is understood that the plan agreed upon by the leaders in the impeachment movement, is to suspend the President as soon as the articles are preferred, Mr. Wade stepping into his, the President's, position. It is then proposed to prolong the trial until Mr. Johnson's regular term of office shall have expired, and, in the meanwhile, they intend to reconstruct the South over again.

REGULATIONS AS TO WAREHOUSING SPIRITS.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has issued a circular to collectors, that all spirits for which bonds for transportation have been given, are to be seized if found elsewhere than in transit to warehouses for which a permit is issued, unless it is clear that the transportation commenced before the 20th inst. Only those spirits which have been regularly withdrawn from warehouses upon payment of the tax, can be regarded as legitimate objects of trafic. The bonds must not be cancelled except on proof of some special circumstances which have rendered compliance with the conditions of the bond impossible.

REMOVALS FROM OFFICE.

From the statement made by Senator Cowan to-day, it appears that of one hundred and ninety-seven removals in the Postoffice Department one hundred and twenty were for political reasons. The Iron and Steel National Association held a public meeting to-night. Many members of Congress were present. Horace Greeley, Commissioner Wells, Hon. John Covode, Messrs. Dodge and Kelly and others delivered brief addresses advocating the necessity of protecting home industry.

Various petitions were presented, including one from the citizens of Detroit against the reduction of the currency; one from the loyal citizens of North Carolina asking the passage of Mr. Stevens' bill for the reconstruction of that State.

The memorial of the Oregon Legislature, for the establishment of a branch of the Pacific Railroad, was tabled.

ADMISSION OF NEBRASKA.

The bill to admit Nebraska, as amended by the House, was taken up.

Mr. WADE moved concurrence and hoped the Senate would now concur. Either Congress had the right to impose conditions of universal suffrage, or it must be left to the people of the Territory for their decision; there was no middle ground.

Mr. HENDRICKS was opposed to all conditions mentioned, but if any were to be imposed, they should be left to the people of the State to comply with.

The question was further discussed by Senators HENDERSON, MORRILL, and others, when the morning hour expired, and the regular order of business, the bill to regulate the tenure of office was called for. The regular order was suspended, by a vote of 21 to 17.

Mr. HENDRICKS offered as a substitute for the House amendment, what was known as the Brown amendment. Disagreed to; 18 against 26.

The House amendment was then concurred in by a vote of 18 yeas against 14 nays. Messrs. Buckalew, Cowan, Dixon, Doolittle, Edmunds, Foster, Harris, Hendricks, Johnson, Nesmith, Norton, Patterson, Riddle, and Saulsbury, voting in the negative.

ADMISSION OF COLORADO.

The bill to admit Colorado, came up and the House amendment was concurred in, and the bill goes to the President.

CHANGES IN THE NAVY REGULATIONS.

Mr. GRIMES introduced a bill to amend certain acts in reference to the Navy, making certain changes in the regulations as to rank, in conformity to acts already passed. The new bill repeals the law requiring that cadet engineers shall be under eighteen years when appointed, and shall be engaged two years in the fabrication of steel machinery; it authorizes the payment to enlisted persons who served in the navy or marine corps for twenty years without misconduct when discharged for age, infirmity or disability, in lieu of a home in the Philadelphia Naval Asylum, the sum equal to half the amount of their rating, &c. The bill was referred to the Naval Committee.

ENQUIRY INTO MEXICAN AFFAIRS.

Mr. HOWARD moved to take up his resolution of enquiry by the Committee on Foreign Affairs into Mexican affairs.

Mr. WILLIAMS hoped the Senate would consider the regular order, the bill to regulate the tenure of office.

Mr. SUMNER had no objections to pass any of Mr. Howard's resolutions, provided they were amended so as to leave it to the discretion of the Committee to report if expedient. He believed the enquiry altogether unnecessary, as there was every evidence that the French troops were now leaving Mexico. He had official information of the fact.

Mr. HOWARD did not believe all these rumors about the departure of the French troops. At any rate, he would like to have a report from the Committee.

Mr. Howard's motion was disagreed to.

THE TARIFF BILL.

Mr. FESSENDEN announced that he would call up the Tariff bill on Monday, and expected to keep it before the Senate until disposed of.

TENURE OF OFFICE.

The bill to regulate the tenure of office came up, the question being on Mr. Sumner's amendment, which was discussed at some length by Messrs. SUMNER, HOWE, FESSENDEN, and others.

Mr. COWAN said the whole number of removals by the President was 446, of which 357 have been sent to the Senate and acted upon. No man has been removed who refrained from improper and disrespectful language towards the President in the last campaign.

Mr. SUMNER could not think of a single prominent officer of the Government in his State, who had not been removed for political purposes.

Without action on the bill, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

Mr. SPAULDING asked leave to offer a resolution that the Committee on Judiciary report an opinion, in writing, respecting the necessity of obtaining any further sanction of the constitutional amendment than three-fourths of the States actually represented in Congress.

Mr FINCK objected, and the resolution was not seconded.

OPERATIONS OF THE TREASURY.

On motion of Mr. ALLISON the Secretary of the Treasury was directed to furnish the House information in reference to the disposal of United States bonds, &c., as required by the act of April 12th, 1862, viz: the amount of exchanges made, or money borrowed under it; of whom and on what terms; the amount and character of indebtedness retired under it, with a detailed statement of the expense of making such loans and exchanges.

THE RIGHT OF WAY OVER PUBLIC DOMAIN.

Mr. JULIAN, on leave, introduced a bill to extend the provisions of the act of Aug. 11th, 1864, granting the right of way for all rail and plank roads for five years, over the public lands. Referred.

MR. STEVENS' TERRITORIAL BILL.

The House considered Mr. Stevens' bill for reconstructing the rebel States.

Mr. PAINE spoke at length in opposition thereto. He denounced the present State governments as piratical governments; which, up to this time, had rested on the souls of Andrew Johnson and his Northern and Southern satelites, but would henceforth rest on the soul of the rash young gentlemen from Pennsylvania, (Mr. Stevens.) It would really seem as if he (Stevens) had some longing for the Presidential bread and butter.

Mr. BINGHAM opposed the measure, because he recognized the power of the people to establish guaranties and safe guards. He believed the safety of the people depended upon the incorporation into the Constitution of the great amendment proposed by the Reconstruction Committee, that it did not prevent further constitutional legislation, but this bill neither stood by the constitutional amendment nor the duty of Congress to give due protection to the citizens of the United States. Within the disorganized States let the future safety of the republic rest upon real irrepealable guarantees imbedded in the Constitution and not upon repealable legislation in the insurgent States. He would have the lately rebellious States go on and perform acts for the ratification of the Constitutional Amendment, even though they were not regularly organized States and the ratification of their acts subsequently by Congress would legalize them. As to the Supreme Court, its powers were very limited. Its appreliate powers rested upon the will of Congress and could readily be taken away. This bill was very offensive to him. It attempted to restrict the right of petition which the Constitution expressly forbade. It looked as if drawn by a crowned despot. It declared that all persons who were in rebellion and had once taken an oath to the Constitution of the United States, were no longer citizens of the United States, and could not become so except through forms of naturalization. He submitted that Congress had no colorable authority for declaring, first, that a million of the people of this country were no longer citizens; and, second, that they could take no steps for organizing state governments until Congress passed an enabling act permitting them to do so. In answer to the question, what remedy he himself proposed, he said he wished the measure referred to the Joint Committee on Reconstruction.

Mr. BINGHAM also objected to other provisions of the bill, one of which declared that no person should be deprived of his right of voting because of conviction and sentence for any crime other than treason, insurrection or misprision of treason. It was declaring in effect that thieves, robbers, murderers and midnight assassins should never be deprived of the elective franchise on account of being convicted of such crimes. While he was willing to assert all the rightful powers of this Government, he would never consent to incorporate by law in the statutes of the nation a provision that would deprive the people of the right of altering or amending their legislation, a provision which this bill contained. Congress had not even the color of a right to pass such a law. He was not going, under pretence of protecting the colored people of the south, to dictate the people of his State were not to have the right to alter and amend their laws at pleasure.

Mr. BINGHAM also opposed Mr. Ashley's bill as a departure from the Constitutional Amendment.

Mr. DAWSON, of Pennsylvania, followed in an argument to show that the Presidential policy was the true solution of the Constitutional difficulty.

STEAMBOAT INSPECTORS

On motion of Mr. WASHBURNE, of Ill., the appropriation for steamboat inspectors, &c., was increased $10,000 for a more thorough investigation of the cause of recent disasters.

Arrival of Texas Senators from Washington—They Hope for a Speedy Adjustment—False Reports Sent North—Meeting of the State Legislature.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 16.—Senator Roberts and Representatives Branch and Chilton, of Texas, arrived from Washington, will remain a few days before returning to their constituents. Although they have received no positive assurances of reconstruction, they express themselves hopeful of an early adjustment of all difficulties.

The report sent abroad that Gov. Wells is in danger of assassination creates the most profound astonishment. Even the Governor laughs at it.

The United States District Court is in session, and quite a number of lawyers have been admitted to practice under the recent decision of the Supreme Court.

The Legislature will meet Monday next. It is generally believed that a State Convention will be called to frame a Constitution, whereupon the people will be afforded another opportunity of expressing their opinion by ballot. It is claimed that this will settle all difficulties growing out of the pretended right of the Convention of 1864 to legislate for the State.

CONVENTION OF WOOL GROWERS.

The Pennsylvania Association—Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Wool Growers' Association was held yesterday, in the Grand jury room, in the Court House. Dr. F. J. LeMoyne, of Washington county, in the chair. In the absence of the regular Secretary, Mr. J. McD. Glenn, of Allegheny, was appointed Secretary, pro tem. After a few remarks by the chairman, the following committees were appointed:

Business—James Slocum, John W. McDonald, Hugh Lee, F. Patterson, John S. Russell.

Nominating officers—John H. Ewing, Daniel Houston, Andrew Miller.

President LeMoyne stated to the meeting that at the National Convention held at Cleveland, a committee had been appointed to visit Washington and stay, to push the matter of a sufficient tariff before the members. He then made a few suggestions as to the work the Business Committee had to do.

Mr. Glenn of Allegheny said, that he thought that the report of Commissioner Wells was more of a free trade argument than a tariff one. Dr. LeMoyne thought that the getting up of petitions was of little use. That question had been discussed at the Cleveland Convention, and it was then decided to do their work in another manner.

During the afternoon session the report of the Committee on Business was presented as follows: That it is of the first importance that the wool growers interest of our country should have ample protection, and that the present tariff is wholly inadequate for that purpose. The association therefore respectfully but earnestly urges upon Congress the passage of the bill, on Wool and Woolens, as passed by the lower House of Congress at its last session.

We would recommend for discussion the wintering and general management of sheep. The report was read and accepted.

Mr. Slocum, of Fayette county, read the bill mentioned above.

Mr. Lee, of Allegheny, said that the bill as read did not exactly suit him, but he would be glad if they could get it. He thought they would be doing well if they did get it, but it would need all their efforts to that end. The gentleman spoke at length on the competition with the foreign production, and the difficulties to be overcome. He believed that if this bill was passed and in operation eighty-five per cent. of foreign wools would come in at three cents duty. He therefore thought that the bill would not protect them enough.

Mr. McFarland, of Washington county, coincided in the views of Mr. Lee.

Mr. Glenn, of Allegheny, made a statement of the manner of shipping of wools from foreign countries, and the necessary proceedings the foreign dealers had to take before our consuls abroad. He had been talking with a large importer, who argued that the tariff proposed was an unfair one. He thought that the great opposition made by Free Traders to the new bill was conclusive evidence that it would be for their benefit. He argued that this Association should abide by the decision which the National Convention had come to. That Convention had adopted this bill after full and free discussion and he thought we should abide by it.

He thought that if the members should show this Congress that this bill is necessary to them, it could be passed. If, next year, this bill is found not to be suited, then we will go to work again and show the fact and have the tariff increased. It is necessity for us to have an increase of the tariff and let us show our Congressmen the truth of this, and they must give it to us. He thought we ought to be satisfied with the present bill at this time.

Mr. McFarland did not wish to discuss the question, but he thought that this convention should recommend the bill as passed by the last session of the House. Some wool might creep in at the three cent duty, but it could not be helped.

A member asked if there was any difference in the bill recommended by the National Convention and that passed by the lower House.

Mr. Lee stated that it was believed that it was precisely the same.

Mr. M'Farland moved the adoption of the following, as presented to the Committee on Business: That the present tariff is wholly inadequate for the purpose of protection to the Wool Growers. After some discussion on this point, the whole report was adopted as the sense of the Convention.

The question of wintering and general management of sheep was then brought up, and a number of gentlemen expressed their views on this subject in detail.

Mr. Glenn, of Allegheny, offered a resolution, as follows, which was unanimously adopted: Believing that free trade, or a tariff which extends no protection to wool, would be ruinous to the best interests of the country, we pledge ourselves, without distinction of party, hereafter to support no man for State or National office who is not heartily in favor of protecting American industry.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was next taken up, when the following gentlemen, as reported by the Committee, were unanimously elected:

President—Dr. F. Julius LeMoyne, of Washington county. Vice Presidents—Jas. Slocum, Fayette county, J. C. White, Lawrence county, H. H. Cree, Greene county, J. S. Blair, Butler county, George Rea, Westmorland county, Hoagland, Mercer county, John Lain, Beaver county, General Harry White, Indiana county, Joseph H. Thompson, Armstrong county, Asa Manchester, Washington county, Hon. Wm. F. Johnston, Philadelphia. Secretary and Treasurer—J. McD. Glenn, Allegheny county. Executive Committee—John H. Ewing, Washington county, David Houston, Washington county, Major Samuel McFarland, Washington county. Representative to the National Society—Jas. Sloan, Fayette county.

The Secretary was instructed to have a report of the proceedings sent to each member of Congress and to the committee at present at Washington.

The second Wednesday in January, 1868, was then appointed for the next meeting, to be held at Pittsburgh, and the meeting adjourned.

Episcopal Pastoral Letter

The following Pastoral letter has been issued by Right Reverend Bishop Kerfoot, to the Clergy and Laity of the Diocese of Pittsburgh:

MY DEAR BRETHREN.—Our Diocesan Missionary Work is progressing very satisfactorily. Most of the points where Missionaries are needed and where we can at present hope to sustain them, are well supplied with zealous and successful labors. Some such points are waiting till the right men can be found, who can live on the very moderate support to be derived from the local resources and the Diocesan aid. As soon as such men can be found, I will supply these yet vacant places. The year's report of Diocesan Missionary work will justify all the promises made and the hopes excited at our Convention, in May last.

But we need more help now from the various Congregations of the Diocese. Many have sent in their offerings. Some have not yet given any aid. All Congregations ought to do this regularly. Even the smallest Churches can help in this work. The whole amount, thus far received, is liberal and justifies the plans and expenditures of the Diocesan Board. These plans require, now, the prompt and ample collections which must replenish the Treasury constantly. The salaries of the Missionaries are paid quarterly in advance. The Treasurer has now in hand $800. He needs $600 more, by the first of February, in order to make the payments due on that day. He will then need $1,200 more by the first of May, to make the payments then becoming due. These needs could, probably, best be met by collections in every Church and Congregation, made once in every three months.

I, therefore, call on every Rector or Minister, and on every Congregation, to make or repeat such a collection now, and send the avails to George E. White, Esq., No. 25 Fifth street, Pittsburgh.

I have more such work in view. New opportunities and calls for such work are constantly coming to me. Would to God that the right men, and the ample means, were ours now, to do all the work which the Diocese needs: My present appeal to you, Brethren, is in behalf of the work already going on. Encouraging experience gives me the confidence that such appeals to you can never be fruitless.

I am, faithfully and affectionately,
Your Bishop,
J. B. KERFOOT.

NOTICE.

Churchmen throughout the Diocese are cordially invited to visit the "Episcopal Reading Room" of the Pittsburgh Church Guild, over the Saving's Bank, corner of Liberty street and Virgin Alley.

The Bishop may be found in his room there, daily from 12 to 1 o'clock, for all matters of official business.

Beating Another Man's Horses.

Yesterday morning Patrick O'Connor made information before Alderman Taylor, charging the conducter and driver of car No. 80, on the Citizens Passenger Railway, with surety of the peace. He alleges that on Tuesday afternoon he was driving with a load of hay along Penn street, in the Ninth ward, when he was overtaken by the car mentioned. He turned as far off the track as he thought necessary or reasonable, but was ordered to go still further away; he replied by telling the driver to go ahead and he would pay for all damage to the car if a collision occurred. Thereupon the driver and conductor got off, and beat his horses cruelly, and informed him that if he would get off the load they would serve him in the same manner. On this threat the information was made. A warrant was issued.

Presbyterian Church Union—Convention of Ministers and Elders—Organization, Addresses, &c.

At a meeting of the Pittsburgh Presbytery of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, held in Neshannock, Lawrence county, Pennsylvania, on Wednesday, the third day of October, 1866, it was

Resolved, That a Committee of Correspondence be appointed, who shall correspond with similar committees of sister denominations in the neighborhood, with the view of furthering the union of the churches.

A committee was accordingly appointed, and called a convention for this day.

The Reformed Presbytery of Pittsburgh met this morning at 10 o'clock, in the First Reformed Presbyterian Church, (Dr. Douglas',) and listened to the report of the committee, after which, on motion of Dr. Douglas the Presbytery took a recess, and went into convention with the ministers and elders present.

Rev. Charles C. Beatty, D. D., L. L. D., was called to preside temporarily, and Rev. Alex. Calhoun chosen Secretary.

DELEGATES.

The following delegates were present: From the Old School Presbyterian Church—Drs. C. C. Beatty, W. D. Howard, Geo. Marshall, Joseph Smith, —— McCague, James Allison, M. W. Jacobus, Rev. S. F. Scovell.

From the United Presbyterian—Dr. J. S. Easton, Revs. David Blair and A. Calhoun.

From the Reformed Presbyterian—Drs. George Scott, John Douglas, Revs. John McMillan, Thomas Johnson, W. T. Wylie, J. F. Hill, John Alford. Ruling Elders—Thomas Smith, James Garnetz, Samuel Gibson, S. M. Young, B. Miller, William Hutchinson, D. Dallas, Thomas Kiddoo, A. T. Moorhead, W. M. Gormley.

The report of the Committee was again read, after which the Chairman spoke briefly. He hoped that great good would result from the Convention. There was no good reason why all the branches of the Presbyterian Church should not unite. We ought to feel like integral parts of the great Church of the Lord Jesus Christ, and should not object to denominations being swallowed up.

On motion of Dr. Howard a Committee of three was appointed to nominate officers for permanent organization. Drs. Howard and Douglas, and Rev. A. Calhoun were appointed.

A letter was read by Dr. Douglas from Dr. A. Donaldson, of Elder's Ridge, urging the Convention to decide favorably on the subject of Union. On motion of Dr. Geo. Scott, the letter was received and laid on the table.

On motion of Dr. Geo. Scott, it was decided that the Convention should be governed by the rules of parliament, common in Church Courts.

The Committee on Permanent Organization reported as follows.

President—Dr. C. C. Beatty.
Vice President—Dr. W. D. Howard.
Secretary—Dr. J. S. Easton.
Assistant Secretary—Rev. J. F. Hall.

Their report was unanimously adopted, and the officers elect entered upon the discharge of their duties.

Dr. Douglas stated that the Old School and United Presbyterians would be considered the guests of the Reformed Church; that the Reformed Church was a unit in favor of union; that it would possibly have looked better had the initiative been taken by one of the larger bodies, but inasmuch as this church had formerly been represented as opposed to union, it had concluded to act first.

The Chairman inquired if any order of business had been prepared, and suggested that a motion be made upon which members might speak.

Rev. S. F. Scovell moved that the Committee re-affirm the principles contained in the call for the Convention.

Dr. George Marshall, Upper St. Clair township, said we were living in an age of progress. Churches ought to be drawn into greater unity of action. All Evangelical Churches are now convinced that a new and important era is dawning. The union is in every way desirable. All hold to the same platform of faith. All hold to the same platform of faith. All hold to the cardinal doctrines of the Westminister Assembly, and but for some slight peculiarities of habit could not be distinguished.

There are two points of difference—Psalmody and intercommunion. These should not keep them apart. Christ has had, and will have but one church. As a means of bringing the churches together he recommended: First, prayer for each other. Second, interchange of labors among pastors, and social prayer meetings. Third, the ministers in exchanging pulpits should ask no questions as to customs in vogue, but go through their own service. Fourth, communion between all members in good and regular standing. If these things could be brought about, the Presbyterian Church would be a great power for good.

Dr. George Scott addressed the Convention briefly. He thought the church never could rise to the majesty of her position until she became one. Only by union can the world know that Christ is the Son of God. This was a day of small things, but should not be despised. Everything must have a beginning, and this Convention might result in great things yet. The impediments to union were great. Habits and associations once formed are hard to break. There may be two kinds of union—organic and federal. The first would contemplate union on one basis, the very names being absorbed into one general name. The other was a co-operative union—a union in all things save the little and unessential peculiarities of habit. He greatly preferred the organic union, and thought the Presbyterian church must ultimately prevail in America. It is in harmony with our institutions, in fact our institutions grew out of it. He asked how means should be devised to attain union, and stated that the Church as at present can never sympathize with those days when great differences existed. He respected the fathers, but had no superstitious reverence for them. They were warriors separating the armies of Salvation. They fought each other. The churches are now drawing together, and could not be kept from eventual union, but an effort should be made now to hasten it. He recommended that a Standing Committee be appointed, to whom the whole matter should be referred, and made a subject of prayer and careful consideration. Let them consider the divisions, and the causes which lead to them. He thought there was now a union of spirit, and there should be one in name and co-operation. He thought division sinful and sectarianism scandal.

After prayer by Rev. Dr. Easton, the Convention adjourned to half-past two o'clock, P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The convention met again at the hour appointed in the afternoon and was opened with prayer by Rev. W. T. Wylie. The following additional delegates appeared and their names were enrolled: Drs. Hodge and Gracey, Rev. S. B. Reed and C. Arbuthnot, Esq.

Dr. Beatty requested Dr. Howard, the Vice President, to occupy the chair, and proceeded to address the meeting. It was a matter of great regret to him that he was compelled to leave the convention before its final adjournment. It was a matter of great joy to him that he was privileged to be present. He always felt that these conferences were productive of good. He had the honor of being a member of a committee on union between the Old and New School Assemblies; these bodies were no nearer to each other than were the Reformed and United Presbyterian churches to the old School Presbyterian Church. Such conferences as the present always brought ecclesiastical bodies nearer to each other. The present convention, then, should not adjourn without making provision for calling another. He thought the time of the centennial celebration, which was to take place in a month or so, would be very appropriate.

Rev. D. Blain thought that the centenary should be made a general meeting, for they were all presbyterians.

Rev. James Allison coincided with everything that had been said. He should always deal with facts in preference to theories. As regards the matter of psalmody, he did not think there was any reason for controversy. The Old School Assembly had as really adopted Rouse's version of the psalms as the hymn book now in use. Any congregation might dispense with the hymn book, and sing Rouse's verson under authority of the Assembly. In regard to inter-communion there was nothing that compelled congregations to commune with each other.

Rev. M. T. Wylie did not see that there was any practical difficulty in the way of union. There was quite as much diversity among the members of any one denomination as there was among the bodies represented in convention.

The motion to reaffirm the principles contained in the call was then put and carried unanimously.

It was moved that a committee be appointed to make arrangements for and call another convention in this city at such time as they may see fit. The committee are Revs. W. D. Howard, D. D., John S. Easton, D. D., John Douglas, D. D., and Herrick Johnston.

After a desultory discussion, in which Drs. Easton, Gracey and Douglas, and Revs. W. T. Wylie and John M'Millan participated, the Convention adjourned with prayer by Rev. Jas. Allison, and pronouncing the benediction by Rev. Dr. Howard.

The proceedings of the Convention were very harmonious, and it is expected will be productive of much good.

New Firm in an Old House.

With pleasure we direct the attention of our readers to the advertisement, which appears in another column, of Messrs. Munhall & McGraw, wholesale and retail dealers in groceries, wines, liquors and boat stores, corner of Diamond alley and the Diamond. They are successors to Joseph Ross, Esq., and both enjoy a large acquaintance in this city, and are in every respect worthy of public patronage. Their stock will embrace all the choicest groceries, teas, sugars, spices, cigars, wines and liquors and boat stores, and patrons may rest assured that they will ever secure the choicest of articles at the most reasonable of prices.

The "Defaulting" Nurse.

Our readers will remember that some days ago we mentioned an information that had been made before Alderman Lynch, by Martin Kane, charging Mary Gaven with larceny. The accused had been employed as nurse for Mrs. Kavanagh, grandmother of the deponent, and had decamped with a large quantity of clothing belonging to Mrs. K. A warrant was issued and placed in the hands of officer O'Connor, but the searched for individual kept herself so secluded that she was not captured. On Tuesday night she lost her caution so far as to get drunk, and make her appearance on the streets in that condition. She was nabbed by the night watch, and placed in a cell, where she sat with royal composure, smoking an old pipe-stump, and relating in a quiet way to all who would listen to her how she had been unjustly arrested for "shooting a man who wanted to kiss her when she didn't want him to." In the morning she was required to pay a dollar, and had no money, so she was sent to jail for twenty-four hours. Alderman Lynch was apprised of the fact of her being arrested, and lodged a commitment against her for a hearing before him on the charge of larceny. One of the shawls she had stolen was found at a butcher shop on Pennsylvania avenue, where she had left it in pay for some meat which she had purchased.

A New Case from an Old One.

Our readers will remember the case of Joseph Holmes who was arrested at Brownsville, last November, for the larceny of a chest of tools at Soho. He was being brought down the Monongahela river on the steamer Gallatin, when he made his escape from the boat at one of the landings and has not been seen since. He left on the boat his trunk, containing various articles of his, and this baggage was taken in charge by the arresting party, one of whom was Henry Daly. Yesterday Mrs. Lydia Holmes, wife of the escaped prisoner, made information before Alderman Morrow, charging Daly with trover and conversion. She alleges that the trunk mentioned contained a blanket worth $10 and that the accused now has that blanket in his possession and refuses to give it up to her. A hearing was had and the suit dismissed as having been illegally brought. As the wife cannot bring civil action without the cooperation of her husband if he be alive. The husband of the present prosecutrix is alive and fails to appear in the case, hence it was dismissed.

Homicides in Beaver County.

We observe from the Argus that the Beaver county Court has an extra number of homicide cases before it. At an adjourned term held by the Associate Judges on the 3rd inst., a man named James H. Logan, was held to bail on a charge of involuntary manslaughter. The defendant it seems is an engineer on the Pittsburgh Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad. He stopped his train at New Brighton recently for five or ten minutes, and is alleged to have started it without giving due notice, while passengers were getting out, in consequence of which a little boy who was standing on the platform of one of the cars, fell off and was run over and killed.

Another case was that of Washington Gordon and several other persons who are charged with the murder of a man named Thomas Middleton, the particulars of which are not given.

In addition to these the court still has the celebrated Lennox case before it, which by the way, the Argus thinks ought to be taken back again to Washington County on the ground that the proceedings in it have thus far been rather an expensive farce to the people of Beaver.

Great Sale for Thirty Days.

Our readers will bear in mind that the great sale, at the most sacrificing of prices, continues at T. A. McClelland's headquarters for boots, shoes, gaiters and general goods. He has determined to get rid of the immense stock of goods now on hands regardless of price, and is offering such bargains as were never before obtained in this city. Every style of boots and shoes of the best make and finish, together with a large assortment of dry goods, woolen goods, clothing and material for men and boys' wear, furs, blankets, and general house-furnishing goods, are now offered at prices very cheap. Call in and see for yourselves, as, whether you are desirous of purchasing or not, attentive and gentlemanly salesmen will take pleasure in waiting upon you. Remember the place, McClelland's auction house salesrooms, 55 and 57 Fifth street, under Masonic Hall.

Great Clearance Sale.

The old and well known dry goods establishment of J. W. Barker & Co. announce a grand clearance sale to go into effect immediately. Of course, the prices are materially reduced, and our lady readers will at once embrace the opportunity for obtaining bargains at this favorite house. Every article in the dry goods line will be found marked down at exceedingly less prices. Retail dealers, country merchants and all who buy to sell again are especially invited to call and examine the stock, as rare chances for purchasing are offered, and goods can be bought at decidedly more favorable figures than those now ruling in the Eastern markets. The establishment, as everybody knows, is located at No. 59 Market street, near Fourth.

Thieves Arrested.

Our readers will remember that some months since, the File room of the GAZETTE building was broken open and a large number of very valuable volumes of our paper stolen. Through the energy and sagacity of officers Cupples and Dressler—than whom there are no better officers on the police force—we are enabled to chronicle the arrest of the guilty wretches engaged in the larceny, named Bayne and Rigby. The former was arrested at Domenec Gallaher's boarding house, and the latter was picked up at the Red Lion hotel. They are said to have figured in numerous other burglaries and petty robberies, and will doubtless get their just deserts in a long sentence across the river.

The Singer, Philip Phillips.—The following incident is related of Philip Phillips, who is to sing in the Chapel of the Pittsburgh Female College, on Tuesday evening next: At the Hall of Representatives in Washington, with an audience of over five thousand people, among whom was President Lincoln, many of our Generals, members of the Cabinet and Congress, Mr. Phillips sang "Your Mission," after which President Lincoln sent up to Hon. William H. Seward, Chairman, the following written request: "Near the close let us have 'Your Mission' repeated by Mr. Phillips. Don't say I called for it. A. LINCOLN."

Father Kemp's Old Folks.—That wily goddess, Success, seems determined to get up a flirtation with Father Kemp and his Old Folks, and has already dropped her mantle on the venerable form of this efficient manager and his artistic company. Masonic Hall is nightly crowded with people full of bustle and vivacity, eager to hear the charming songs of Mrs. Nichols, and listen to the choruses, which for vivid interpretation and truthful conception of character cannot be excelled.

A Narrow-minded Bigot.—The Pittsburgh Catholic violently assails, through a witless and vulgar correspondent, the Public Catholic Library Association, on the grounds that its Library contains few works by authors of that persuasion and is made up mainly from standard works of Protestant writers. In this nineteenth century such a fault could not be found by any save a narrow minded and uneducated bigot.

Paine & Co's Argentine—For instantly plating all articles of copper, brass or German silver, with pure silver, where worn off, and for cleansing and polishing silver or silver-plated ware. Warranted to contain no quicksilver or acid, or any injurious article. For sale by J. Sample, Allegheny, and all druggists. del8:tf

Another Gone.—Our young friends are rapidly rushing into matrimony, and the last we have to record is the marriage of J. W. Taylor, Esq., Attorney at Law, of this city, to a lady of Baltimore. We wish the young couple much happiness.

FROM MEMPHIS.

The Residence of the Rebel General Forrest Burglarized—Another Murder—Legislation in Arkansas.

MEMPHIS, January 16.—The residence of General Forrest, on Adams street, was entered by robbers last night, who carried off two gold watches, a pocket book containing near two hundred dollars and other valuable articles, including his parole.

It is reported that Dr. Almon Case, State Senator from Obion county, was shot dead from his horse, near his home last Friday, by an unknown assassin.

Mr. McCarlton, a street car conductor was run over by his car, last night, and both arms and a leg badly crushed.

A special to the Avalanche from Little Rock says: Both houses of the Arkansas Legislature have passed a bill reducing the State tax to one-half of one per cent; and also a bill providing for the support of disabled soldiers, and supplying them with artificial limbs; also an act for the support of the widows and orphans of deceased soldiers.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 17, 1867.

THE Senatorial elections, just held in several of the loyal States, give token of an increased amount of backbone in that body, which is greatly needed.

◆

THE Legislature, having decreed the banishment of Governor CURTIN to private life, bowed him into retirement yesterday with the easy grace characteristic of men of the world.

◆

THE Brookville Press urges the Republicans of Pennsylvania to nominate Judge GORDON, of that district, for the seat on the Supreme bench soon to be vacated by Judge WOODWARD.

◆

GEN. SHERMAN lately expressed himself decidedly disgusted with diplomatic functions. It might throw light on the real intentions of our Executive Department for Congress to ask him what gives him so much dissatisfaction.

◆

NOT a few editors heralded the defeat of Mr. Stevens for Senator in the Legislative caucus as the discomfiture of Radicalism. Those of them who have since read General Cameron's address have discovered how greatly they were mistaken. All his life he has taken naturally to advanced opinions, and the habit does not weaken with increased years.

◆

IT seems to be settled that the French are leaving Mexico, and certainly with none of the ends accomplished for which their expedition was undertaken. Maximilian will depart with them, his empire sinking into the nothingness out of which it arose. What the Mexicans will do when left to themselves is easily foreseen. They will thicken the anarchy French bayonets have tended to mitigate.

◆

AS A contribution to current history, we may state that a gentleman who sustains confidential relations to General CAMERON published in these columns, in the form of a communication, an elaborate eulogy of that gentlemen. Unfortunately, it was prefaced with a venomous reference to Colonel FORNEY's withdrawal from the Senatorial contest. Instead of holding the writer responsible, the Colonel went back of him, and held the General answerable as the instigator of the assault. Hence, his terrific counterblast.

◆

WHEN MR. MOTLEY, the historian, was appointed Minister to Austria, it was felt in this country as in Europe that the right man had been selected for the place. The manner in which he has performed his duties has been unimpeachable. He has given the amplest satisfaction here as well to the Austrian government, to which he is accredited. His experience has enhanced his capacity for usefulness. It would seen absurd to dismiss him on caprice, or to make room for a man of less accomplishments and no experience at all. But Mr. COWAN has served the President so faithfully as to be repudiated by his State; and he must be provided for. Hence, he has been nominated as Mr. MOTLEY's successor. If the Senate shall reject this nomination they will do an act of simple justice.

◆

WHEN it became apparent to common observation that General CAMERON would be elected to the United States Senate, the Pittsburgh Commercial and the Pittsburgh Leader assailed that gentleman and his supporters with the intensest acrimony. To sweeping calumnies were added the specific charge that CAMERON had corruptly purchased the votes of many, if not most, of the members favoring his election. The Joint Committee appointed to investigate these charges, by whomsoever made, naturally concluded that editors who ventured thus to accuse their fellow-citizens, must know whereof they affirmed, and have cited the editors of the journals above named to appear before it and disclose what knowledge they have on the subject. If it shall turn out that they really know nothing whereof they have so stoutly declared, they will find themselves in situations which honorable men would shrink from as from contamination.

THE MILITIA.

General PAINE has brought before Congress a bill for the organization of the militia of the whole country. It provides for the enrollment of all able-bodied men within sixty days after the passage of the act and annually thereafter. A national guard of two regiments of loyal volunteers is to be established in each Congressional district, with a Major General at its head, who shall be commander of the militia, subject to the order of the President and Secretary of War. The term of service is fixed at three years. The organization to conform in all particulars to that of the regular army. The officers are to be be elected by the troops, and commissioned by the Governors, who are to exercise all the authority over the national guard that is, by the Constitution, reserved to the States. The test oath is to be taken by all exercising authority. The Government is to arm and equip the troops, upon requisition and proper bond. There is to be an annual encampment—the number of days is as yet undetermined. On being called into actual service, the pay and allowances will be the same as the regular army. Congress is to have power to order the national guard into service to execute the laws of the United States, or to suppress insurrection in any State at the request of its Legislature. In case of war, Congress may order such a part of the national guard into service as is needed. All forms, parades, dress, &c., are to be according to the regulations of the regular army. Four schools of the national guard are to be established by Congress, with the same courses as at West Point. Commissions in the army shall be granted only to graduates at West Point, or of those schools of the guard, or those who have served honorably, at least one year, in the militia or army.

THE people of this country, as we think, have demonstrated two facts; first, that they will not train, and, second, that the will fight most valiantly whenever a dire necessity is laid on them. For a quarter of a century, immediately prior to the rebellion the militia systems of the several States had fallen into so utter disrepute that they ceased to be operative except in a few of the larger cities. At different times, and in diverse commonwealths attempts were made to so far revive the martial spirit as to put militia systems on bases of at least comparative efficiency. All these attempts proved abortive. The utmost success attained consisted in raising sums of money from fines for omitting or refusing to parade, which were largel xpended by nominal officers in having a "good time" to reward their indefatigable assiduity.

When the war broke out the people of the loyal States were found almost wholly without preparation or experience. Only here and there could a man "to the manor born" be found who understood even the manual of arms. Yet no people ever entered upon a great conflict with more alacrity, or waged a gigantic war with a more invincible courage. Raw levies were transformed in ninety days into sturdy troops, and the honored "veteran corps" was mainly composed of young men, comparatively few of whom exceeded twenty-five years of age.

As soon as the war closed, a million of men, the heroes of the mightiest struggle in modern times, made haste to stack their arms, to doff their uniforms, and to return to the pursuits of peace. So slight was the remaining trace of military fervor that the few regiments of regular troops could not be filled, and are quite thin up to this time. There are no indications that attempts to reinvigorate the militia will meet with a larger measure of success than before the war.

Against whom shall the nation arm? Surely there is no nation on this continent of which we stand in awe, or against whose numbers and prowess it is needful to make laborious and costly preparation. In Europe the proximity of rival nations, each powerful in means of offense, creates a seeming necessity for formidable preparations on all sides. But it may reasonably be questioned whether the dreaded spirit of enterprise and aggresion inheres in the respective peoples to anything like the degree it does in dynasties, whose ambitious clash and whose jealousies impel to war.

> "Kings, priests and statesmen ever play
> A losing game into each other's hands,
> Whose stakes are vice and misery."

The expensive preparations of European nations do not give them deliverance from the horrors of war. It may be doubted if martial readiness has a tendency in that direction. It seems much more probable that the lot of nations corresponds to that of individuals in this regard. When a man has initiated himself into all mysteries of "the noble art of self-defence" he finds himself frequently constrained to put his unenviable acquirements to the proof, whereas the man who thinks it not worth while to spend time on such acquisitions goes through life with no occasion to strike or be struck. This principle has another illustration. When all gentlemen go armed bloody renconters are frequent. When all gentlemen discard arms few insults are given, and hence there are few to redress.

If it is urged that the nation shall arm against itself, we cannot help asking, To what end? A militia system, to have vitality, must approximate in expensiveness, when all its outgoes are calculated, to the vast standing army of a monarchy. Our situation does not require it, nor does the genius of our people promise its realization. If immense forests are to be cleared, if railroads are to span the continent, if mines are to be opened into the bowels of the earth, if stately cities are to be builded, if any of the crowning achievements of civilization are to be undertaken and carried through to completion, our people are adequate to all that can be laid upon them; but whoever endeavors to make them enter heartily into "militia trainings" entirely miscalculates.

EMBERS OF THE REBELLION.

MR. HENRY A. WISE, during a long public career, managed to keep himself under general observation not so much by superior genius or culture as by audacity in utterances which a decent self-respect or proper consideration for the rights and feelings of others would have constrained him to have left unsaid. In this particular, his case is not singular. A good many men pass for smart or talented who are merely endowed with an uncommon amount of brass or impudence. They freely vent all the uncharitable, harsh and malevolent suggestions that come into their heads; and, encouraging that propensity, very few other thoughts make their acquaintance.

In a speech he recently made at Richmond he glorified the rebellion, declared the South to be sublimely unconquered, and desired to be buried in a grey overcoat when his time should come. Doubtless he contrived to impart these sentiments with genuine Southern vehemence. It would have been much more to the purpose if while the war lasted he had met the fate he professes to covet. Not that we are specially anxious a hair of his head should be ungraciously touched; but since, according to his professions, it would have afforded him so much satisfaction to be buried in a rebel uniform, it is a pity he was disappointed. A good many better men met that fate, when they would gladly have escaped it. But, perhaps, Mr. WISE did not mean to signify his willingness to die for the Confederate cause, but only intended to convey, by a strong figure of speech, his attachment to the aims and sentiments in which the Rebellion originated. He always was rhetorical, and very little else, and allowances should be made for his infirmity.

If, however, he expects by such displays to impress the people of the loyal States with the idea that the rebel leaders are in a proper frame of mind to have unbounded magnanimity lavished upon them, his assurance has simply got the better of his discretion.

RECENTLY General KIDDO issued an order in the words following:

HEADQRS. B. OF R., F. AND A. L.,
STATE OF TEXAS,
Galveston, Jan. 3, 1867.

CIRCULAR
No. 1.

1. The Labor Law passed at the last Session of the Legislature of the State of Texas, and approved Nov. 1st, 1866, will be disregarded by Sub-Assistant Commissioners of this Bureau, and any contracts made in accordance with its provisions will not be approved.

J. B. KIDDOO, Bvt. Maj. Gen'l.,
OFFICIAL. Assistant Commissioner.

Whereat the Galveston News is displeased, and gives vent to its dissatisfaction thus:

> "Why, when orders like the following can be issued, Congress should wish to pass laws for territorializing the State, and for removing Governor Throckmorton, is more than we can see. If Thaddeus Stevens will just tell the Chief of the Bureau at Washington what he wants done, even though it should involve any possible Constitutional right of the State, or any legal right of any individual—that Chief can communicate the wish to General Kiddoo, and the thing can be carried out without any further trouble. What is the use, then, of any more legislation?"

EDITORIAL BREVITIES.

AN interesting case has just been decided in Chicago. The city caused to be asessed, for the payment of taxes, under State laws, the capital stock of the First National Bank of Chicago, with the intention of collecting a tax on the sum total of the stock. The Court decided that the assessment was a violation of the acts of Congress authorizing the existence of the national banks, and that the capital stock of the bank, as such, could not be assessed under State authority; that the only way the stock could be reached was to assess the shares of different stock holders, in the same manner that assessments were made in other cases against property owners by the citizens and inhabitants of the State.

WHETHER railroads in Great Britain are really better managed than those of this country, as is often alleged, may be roughly estimated from the official statement that during the six years beginning in 1860, and ending in 1865, there were 1,382 persons killed by railway accidents and 4,460 injured. The number of killed during each of the last four years was almost the same—216 in 1862, 184 in 1863, 222 in 1864, and 221 in 1865. The number of injured, however, varied greatly, being 536 in 1862, 401 in 1863, 706 in 1864, and 1,039 in 1865. Four persons were killed every week, and the number of accidents in each of the four years was, with singular regularity, either 35 or 36.

What Is London?

We commonly speak of London, and correctly enough as a city that is growing from about 2,000,000 in 1851 to 2,800,000 in 1861, and increasing steadily. The Lord Mayor of London, however, was mortified recently to find that "the city proper," according to the last census, only contained a little above 100,000 inhabitants. This was the result of actual census work made on a particular night of all who slept within the boundaries. It was, however, considered unfair, and the Mayor had another estimate made by day, from which it appears that in every twenty-four hours there are, on an average, 728,986 persons within the old city limits. In twelve hours, 549,613—283,520 being the number of day residents in the city doing business, renting houses, shops, or rooms, or regularly working there themselves. At five o'clock the provision men are congregating. Between 8 and 12 the mercantile classes arrive, and leave between 4 and 6; some stop till 9, while at night only about 100,000 sleep in the city to take care of the property. To estimate all this is a work of great difficulty. The number of inhabitants of the city proper, and in fact of all our cities, depends more than anything else on the hour of the day or night. In laying taxes it does not do—it is not fair—to go by the night census, embracing only those who regularly sleep in the city. Equally wide of the mark would it be to take the day census instead of the night, including all the casuals who daily enter the city, but live, to the number of hundreds of thousands, and more than half, beyond the limits even of the Board of Metropolitan Works. Three hundred thousand is perhaps fairly considered the number of inhabitants of the "city proper," or "London Town," as it used to be bounded in the days of walls and gates. But, after all, what is to the fact that before many years that metropolis will probably number four millions? Though Tacitus is among the first writers who distinctly mention London, yet before Julias Cæsar invaded Britain this was an old town, and now is growing more rapidly than ever in numbers, in wealth, and in a trade that is extending to the ends of the earth. It is a city full of abuses and corruptions, but as each becomes a threatening and intolerable nuisance, the authorities go to work and make a clean sweep of the whole, as they are now doing with its old sewerage system, which used to empty into the Thames. Never was the chance of life longer in that city than it is now. Nor was the city ever so financially strong. In its Gazette it can publish weekly the names of two hundred bankrupts, and yet the city grows. Banks and companies that have stood for one hundred and fifty years explode, and yet the three hundred thousand citizens of London proper form a nucleus around which three millions gather and do business, which, for strength of capital, and character, and real power, not only exceeds that of ancient Rome in her highest glory, but of any other city the world has yet seen.

The source of all this strength, however, is the country that supports it. Its wealth, manufactures, mines and agriculture make the centre strong in proportion. This being the case, and our country being so strong in these elements, it requires no great wisdom to foresee that this country must, at no very distant day, have cities as large, strong and wealthy as London. There will be one or two great centres of trade and capital that will by degrees draw both away from London. A more extended country, with rapid accumulation of inhabitants, more equally diffused wealth, must ever make exchanges more frequent and capital more remunerative while employed, and a few centres large and strong in proportion.

Location of the Union Pacific Railroad Over the Mountains.

The readers of the Nonpareil will recollect that General Dodge, the chief Engineer of the Union Pacific Railroad, in company with Colonel Lyman, consulting engineer, and Jesse L. Williams, Esq., Government Director, spent several weeks, last fall, in examining the mountains to the west and north of Denver with a view to ascertaining the most practicable route for railroad purposes. General Dodge's report of this examination, and of the various surveys made by parties under his direction, is now in press in New York city. It is a very comprehensive document—setting forth minutely the advantages and disadvantages of the many proposed routes for this road over the mountains—and recommends the Lodge Pole Creek line to the Eastern base of the mountains; the Lone Tree and Crow creeks divide line over the mountains to Laramie Plains. The Board of Directors have adopted this line, believing it to be the shortest and cheapest, with the lowest grades, and least liable to obstructions from snow. The Directors favor the building of a branch to Denver, but have not yet decided upon the route.

We have been favored with proof sheets of the engineer's report, and from it we gather data which will doubtless prove of interest to our readers. The line adopted for crossing the mountains has only a maximum grade of 90 feet to the mile, while all other lines have 110 feet to the mile. The examination of the mountains west of Denver settled the question as to the feasibility of the road crossing them in that direction, for no line that can be obtained can compare in cost, grades, distances, directions, and freedom from obstructions from snow, with any one of the lines crossing the Black Hill range of the Rocky Mountains.

The survey, in fact demonstrated the impracticability of building the line west from Denver, and hence when forced to abandon the idea of going by way of that city, the company then determined to follow the very best route to be found. Of the practicability of this route, the report says: "If we commence grading early in the spring, we can cross the mountains with the track in 1867. From snow we need fear no trouble. The road being built on ridges, it will not be so easily drifted as other lines which follow valley, canon and slope, and are subject to heavy drifts in that high latitude."

The coal fields of that section are quite extensive, and run along the base of the mountains from Thompson's creek south to Arkansas river divide; thence east, crossing Cherry creek, Bijon and Kiowa; thence north to Outcrops on Crow and Lone Tree creeks; thence west to starting point. The coal is of the brown formation; leaves no "clinker" when burnt, and is really lignite, and it will make excellent fuel for locomotives and blacksmithing. It has not yet been used for smelting, but soon will be, probably. Iron ore exists throughout all that region, and is found in places near the coal fields. Until the Black Hills are reached, timber for ties can only be found in limited quantities. The Black Hills are heavily wooded, and will furnish ties for several hundred miles of the road.—Council Bluff's Nonpareil.

A Prima Donna Who Despises Small Talk, and Dotes on Dogs.

The New York correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette writes the following in relation to Miss Clara Louise Kellogg, the American prima donna:

"It is not her sweet voice or pretty face which altogether attracts the attention and curiosity of those who are in the secret of her private domestic life in New York. With what horror must it be confessed that with all her beauty, talent and youthful fascinations, she is a passionate dog fancier and as passionate a misanthrope. In a word, she bestows all the affection which properly belongs mankind upon a host of horrid dogs, monkeys, cats, rabbits and parrots, and accordingly possesses all the necessary requirements for becoming a confirmed old maid, much to the chagrin and disgust of the large circle of satellites which revolve round her, attracted by her youthful charms.

"She lives in a small house with her father away up town, where the names of the streets run far into the scores, but the house she occupies is more like a menagerie, or Barnum's in miniature, than a private dwelling. When any one calls, especially if that one be of the masculine gender, she is invariably engaged and cannot be seen. Her engagements are invariably with the canine and other collections before mentioned. On entering the neatly furnished parlor your eyes alight on several of the stuffed remains of the dear departed of "her fancy," here and there arranged upon the hearth-rug, cushions and corners of the room, with their shining glass eyes staring at you with a fixed, artistic gaze and you feel a sort of uncomfortable sensation of snapping at the heels when really nothing need be feared on that score.

"However, it may happen that two or three fretful curs in the flesh will rush at you from their nestling places on the arm chairs or sofa. There is a neatly-kept garden in the rear of the house, and from this quarter a continual uproar of animated nature reaches the ear. Here this pretty prima donna passes her leisure hours. The number of acquirements that may be obtained by close study and perseverence, in a short time, is also illustrated in this young lady's life. She is not yet twenty years old, and she is the perfect mistress of five languages, besides of the art of "stuffing" before mentioned, and the art of singing, which may safely be considered a test of all her other accomplishments.

"Her father is by profession a phonographist, and self-taught. He is also the master of several languages, which he assisted his daughter in acquiring. The secret of their success must be mainly attributed to the fact of their both being confirmed misanthropes, who have preferred to spend that time in the pursuits of study which others wasted for worthless gossip and small talk. On the stage Miss Clara Kellogg has a natural grace and simplicity in every movement which do not seem to be in the slightest degree assumed."

THE Galveston (Texas) Bulletin, in an article insisting that the late war was one of ideas, has the following:

"It (slavery) strove to live and make all the world like it. Its leaders avowed that their object was to put this belt of the continent under the control of an aristocracy which believes that one-fifth of the race is born booted and spurred, and the other four-fifths ready saddled for the fifth to ride. The war was one of freedom and democracy against the institutions that rest on classes. It will take ten years for the country to shed the scar of such a struggle. The state of society at the South that produced the war will remain and trouble the land until freedom and democracy, and the system of the nineteenth century, take its place. Only thus can we grapple the Union together with hooks of steel and make it as lasting as the granite that underlies the continent."

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS

Stand pre-eminent among the medicinal preparations in this country. The demand for them is something wonderful, unparalleled; hence the counterfeiters know full well that if they can impose their fiery fluids upon the people as that famous tonic, they can make fortunes by the fraud. They are now at work. Detectives are on the trail of some of them, and others have been already brought to book. Let the public second the proprietors in their efforts to baffle the reckless scoundrels who seek at once to poison the community and swindle the firm that has produced the finest Vegetable Bitters ever manufactured. Thinking to dodge the law, the counterfeiters are affixing to their bottles names resembling in orthography and sound that of HOSTETTER, such as "Hochstetter," "Hoofstetter," and the like. Will the public be kind enough to look to this, and to see also that the label is all right, with its vignette of St. George and the Dragon, and its tiny note of hand, signed "HOSTETTER & SMITH." The proprietors will do their part to protect the million from imposition, and they ask the million to be on the alert against the plotters against their health.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

The Trial of McGranigan.

The trial of Richard McGranigan, indicted as one of the murderers of the Squibb family, was commenced in the York county Court of Quarter Sessions on Wednesday, and brought to a termination on the evening of the same day, the jury returning a verdict of not guilty without leaving the box. McGranigan is a very young man, rather good looking, and his countenance quite pleasant and prepossessing. He does not look like a man who could easily be persuaded to indulge in an act of cruelty or bloodshed. Yet he sometimes indulges in strong drink, and when under its influence is wild and reckless, and the evidence showed that while in that condition he made use of the expressions which occasioned his arrest. He is respectably connected in Harrisburg, and bears the reputation of being an honest and industrious man.

John Boyle, also charged with the murder, was tried and acquitted the day previous. Concerning him the York Gazette says:

Difference of opinion exist in the community in reference to the guilt of Boyle, and the verdict of the jury, although no doubt highly satisfactory to the prisoner and his counsel, is by no means universally endorsed by the people. The finding of the bloody clothing and hatchets in the possession of the prisoner, the shape of the latter corresponding with the wounds upon the deceased, which were attempted to be explained away by evidence that Boyle's son Edward wore the overcoat, and was subject to bleeding at the nose, was rather a lame affair. The jury has rendered their verdict, and the prisoner, so far as the murder of George Squibb is concerned, is discharged. If John Boyle was not a party to that cruel and unparalleled butchery, he certainly was singularly unfortunate in his associations.

Conflagration in Johnstown.

We take the following from the Johnstown Democrat: A most disastrous fire occurred in this place on last Sunday morning. It broke out in the hat store of Mr. Turner, and was discovered by Mr. A. G. Miller and another gentleman who had got off the train and were passing up the street to a hotel. They gave the alarm, but before the citizens could be aroused the fire had got such headway that it could not be mastered. It spread rapidly each way, and before its progress could be arrested it consumed the entire block, including Frazer's drug store, corner of Main and Franklin streets, up the store of H. Walters, including six stores, two of which were partially occupied as residences, and a wholesale harness and saddlery establishment. The fire was arrested on Franklin street, at the brick house occupied by David Creed as a grocery store and residence. The back building attached was of wood and was consumed. The real estate was owned by Mr. Thomas Gore, with the exception of the building occupied by Mr. Williams as a residence, and by Miss Parke and Mr. Chandler as store-rooms. The estimated loss amounts to about $19,000, with an insurance of $13,000.

This fire occurred in the centre of the town and in one of its most busy localities. Had it not been for the heavy body of snow on the roofs of the houses it would have swept a large portion of the business part of the town.

While the fire was raging and many were busy in removing goods and endeavoring to subdue the devouring elements, there were others—hardened brutes, though in human form—who were stealing the goods and effects of the unfortunate sufferers.

This has been a sad disaster to our town, and we trust it will awaken our citizens to the necessity of procuring an ample supply of water and an efficient fire company and apparatus.

Raid on a Gambling House.

Says the Meadville Republican: On Saturday evening policemen Pettibone and Brinker made a descent on a gambling house on North Main street, near North. The establishment has been under the eye of the police for some time, and from the indications that evening, they would get a fine haul of the fancy who frequented the concern. At a time agreed upon Brinker took his station at the front door, while Pettibone went to the rear and after ascertaining that the doors were all securely fastened, and the occupants actively engaged, he shoved himself through a door in a manner which rather damaged the panels, and appeared very suddenly among a party of fifteen or twenty familiar faces of citizens who would perhaps prefer that we should omit their names, and who were seated around their card tables playing away in regular southern river steamboat style. For a moment they were dumb-founded by the appearance of an officer amongst them, and then were seized with a terrible desire to get out of the house as speedily as possible. About half a dozen were arrested and the others succeeded in escaping. The captured were brought before a justice and held for their appearance this morning. Most of those who made good their retreat were known to the police, and will probably be compelled to "come to judgment."

We trust this is but the beginning of the work of breaking up a lot of gambling hells in town. We have definite information of two or three other establishments of the kind, one of which is frequented by a class of men who would hardly be suspected of such habits. One of these days some of these gentlemen, who carry their heads quite as high as the best, may find their names figuring in a police item of more than ordinary interest.

Fire in Huntingdon.

The Huntingdon Journal contains the following:

On Friday last, about noon, the coach shop and an unfinished dwelling house of Mr. Mengle, and the residence of James A. Green, situated on Washington street, between Montgomery and Bath streets, were totally destroyed by fire. All the articles belonging to Mr. Green were saved, but the tools, lumber, accounts, &c., of Mr. Mengle, were destroyed. The fire is supposed to have caught in the coach shop, but from what cause no one pretends to know. The engines were promptly upon the ground, but were entirely useless—being frozen up—until the buildings were in ruins. Had they been in order—as they should always be—all this property could have been saved, and the labor of years been spared to their unfortunate owners. It is high time that our borough authorities appoint men to office who will attend to their duties; the citizens demand this of them, and we hope that they will profit by the lesson of Friday last, and see that our engines are ready for use at any moment. The loss of Mr. Mengle is estimated at $2,500, and that of Mr. Green at $1,000. No insurance on either property.

Singular Accident and Death.

On Monday evening a week, a young man by the name of Venus, came to his death in a very singular and unaccountable manner. He was driving a team down William's Hill, near Loganville, Springfield township, and was engaged in locking the wheel of the wagon, when his foot slipped and he fell, rolling through the wheels and coming out on the other side, none of the wheels of the wagon apparently touching or running over him. He immediately jumped up and ran towards the off wheel horse to stop them, when he again fell to the ground. When the driver of a team which was coming down the hill in the rear of him, arrived at the spot where he was lying, he found him dead. No marks, we believe, were discovered on his person to show that he had been struck by any portion of the wagon or run over by the wheels, and the cause of his death is a mystery, and quite unaccountable.

Two Men Killed.

A terrible accident occurred in the mines of the Cambria Company, on Saturday evening last, by which two men, named Dunn and Hotchkins, were almost instantly killed, by the premature explosion of a blast. A companion left the men tamping the blast, and proceeded toward the mouth of the mine. Hearing the explosion, he immediately returned and found both in the agonies of death. Dunn spoke a few words, but Hutchkins, although living, was unable to speak. Both expired before they could be taken to their place of boarding. Dunn leaves a wife and five children in England. Hotchkins was about 21 years of age, had been here but a short time, and leaves no family. The two men were buried in the Sandy Vale Cemetery, on Sunday.

An Embarrassing Surprise.

For a few days past, a pretended deaf and dumb man has been engaged in selling books and notions about Columbus. On Sunday he entered a house, where, after the usual amount of pantomimic energy and scribbling on the slate, it became evident that the prospect of making a sale was not very flattering. While he was disconsolately contemplating this feature of the affair, a lady suddenly asked him if he had a certain book. "Yes, Madame," was the eager reply. The people were surprised, and the pedlar embarrassed. He left in short order, and has not played another game since.

Died at Dixmont.—The Greensburg Republican and Democrat says: Jacob Kaylor, committed to the Insane Hospital at Dixmont, below Pittsburgh, about three years since, from this county, died at that Institution a few weeks ago. He was deranged for a number of years, and finally became so ungovernable that it was necessary to confine him.

Precocious Boy.—A little urchin, four years old, son of a resident of Milroy, got on a passing sled, unobserved by the driver, and was carried some distance from home, where he was left at a farm house. The little traveler was not found until 3 o'clock the next morning.

Pardoned.—Forbes Cannon, one of the party who was convicted for the larceny of some articles from the railroad depot at the Blairsville intersection, and sentenced to the penitentiary during last August term, for one year, was pardoned by the Governor a few days ago, and is now at liberty.

Singular.—Two young children of Jacob Irwin, who resides near Castle Valley, have been for sometime suffering severely by being poisoned, as is thought, by burning wood to which poison vines were clinging when placed in the stove.

Miners Discharged.—Hundreds of miners are being discharged in the coal regions, in consequence of the depression of the coal trade.

Allegheny County Medical Society.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Allegheny County Medical Society was held on Tuesday afternoon at the Western University, the President, Dr. A. H. Gross, in the chair. The attendance was large and the proceedings spirited and harmonious. The committee appointed to prepare a report on the "impurities of the water used by the inhabitants of Pittsburgh," made a report through their chairman, Dr. N. McDonald, which, on motion, was authorized to be published.

Six new members were elected, and ten gentlemen proposed for membership.

A special meeting will be held on the third Tuesday evening in January. Subject for discussion—"Bromine and its compounds."

The following gentlemen were elected officers for 1867:

President—Dr. R. B. Mowry; Vice President—Dr. M. B. Trevor; Corresponding Secretary—Dr. Harry T. Coffey; Recording Secretary—Dr. B. C. Jillison; Assistant Secretary—Dr. J. N. Binham, Treasurer—Dr. Nesbit McDonald; Censor—Dr. Thos. J. Gallagher; Delegates to American Medical Association for 1867—Dr. James King Dr. M. R. Trevor, Dr. A. H. Gross, Dr. John Dickson, Dr. B. C. Jillison, Dr. Thos. H. Elliott, Dr. Perchment. Alternates—Dr. T. J. Gallagher, Dr. H. T. Coffey, Dr. R. B. Mowry. Delegates to State Medical Society, which meets in Pittsburgh, June 12, 1867—Dr. M. P. Knox, Dr. M. R. Town, Dr. E. A. Wood, Dr. M. R. Hamilton, Dr. I. McCann, Dr. A. M. Pollock, Dr. A. A. Gross, Dr. Jno. Dickson, Dr. H. T. Coffey, Dr. Ferd. Koller, Dr. A. H. Miller, Dr. D. N. Rankin, Dr. George McCook.

Allegheny Soldiers' League.

A special meeting of the Allegheny Soldiers' League was held at their Hall, Water street, on Tuesday night. Several applications for membership were read and appropriately disposed. The resignation of Wm. B. Kroesen, M. D., as Treasurer, was read and accepted. The committee appointed to procure suitable rooms for the Library and Reading Room, reported through the Chairman, Mr. A. P. Callow, that they had completed their labors. The Chairman stated the second story front room of the Malta House, on Federal street, at present occupied by Mr. Hendricks, had been procured, and would be ready for occupancy on the first of February. The report was accepted and the Trustees authorized to make the necessary arrangements. A proposition was submitted and discussed looking to an extension of the boundaries of the League, styling it the "Allegheny County Soldiers' League," instead of "Allegheny City." The discussion closed with a proposition to amend the Constitution to the above effect. The Committee on Address to City Councils reported that that body had declined to assist the League, alleging that Councils could not do for the soldiers the same as had been done for the Allegheny Library, give them a room or render material aid. An earnest discussion ensued without any definite result. Considerable routine business was transacted, after which the League adjourned until Tuesday evening next.

Supreme Court Decisions.

The following decisions have just been rendered by the Supreme Court, in session at Philadelphia:

Fenton Torrence vs. Hitchman Torrence. Error to Common Pleas of Westmoreland county. Opinion by Agnew, J. Judgment affirmed.

James Millinger, Garnishee of Charles Gearing vs. Andrew Hartupee. Error to District Court of Allegheny county. Judgment affirmed.

Hughes' appeal from decree of Orphans Court of Allegheny county, in accounts of George Treyman, guardian. Opinion by Reed, J. Decree of Orphans Court reversed and report of Auditor confirmed, except in last quarter's rent of brewery in use. All costs of the proceedings to be paid out of the funds in the hands of the guardian.

The People's Insurance Company vs. Mackey. Error to Common Pleas of Allegheny county. Judgment affirmed.

Stearns vs. Merchants' Bank. Error to Common Pleas of Erie county. Opinion by Reed, J. Judgment affirmed.

Almanacs.

We have received from W. A. Gildenfenney, 45 Fifth street, a copy of the TRIBUNE ALMANAC for 1867. It is, as the preceding numbers have been, complete with statistical and other information of great value to all classes of people, but especially to those who take an interest in politics.

We have, also, received from the publishers, Weed, Parsons & Co., of Albany, New York, a copy of the EVENING JOURNAL ALMANAC for 1867. This contains valuable tabular and other political information, concerning all the States, but is particularly full respecting the State of New York.

Atrocious Assault.—A brutal and fiendish attempt at outrage was made in Moreland on last Tuesday week, during the night time, upon the person of Mrs. Ellen Welsh, whose husband was killed in the late rebellion. It appears that Mrs. Welsh was alone in the house, when she was accosted by her brother-in-law, Simon Welsh, who made improper overtures to her. She resented the indignity offered her by the fiend in human shape, and told him to begone about his business. He then threatened her life, when she called loudly for help, and resisted with all her power, but her strength failing, the man would certainly have gratified his desires had not her screams been heard by a man who was passing. He immediately rushed to her assistance and captured the rascal. He had a hearing before Samuel F. Bockius, Esq., who committed him to prison in default of bail.

Officers Elected.—The stockholders of the Pittsburgh and M'Keesport Car Company held a meeting at the Board of Trade Rooms yesterday, and elected the following officers to serve for the ensuing year: President, Wm. H. Brown; Secretary, T. J. Craig; Treasurer, R. C. Loomis; Directors, Wm. H. Brown, T. J. Craig, R. C. Loomis, Wm. Stevenson, Jas. O'Neil, J. N. Shallenberger, Jas. M'Master.

Receipts From Amusements.—The monthly returns made to the Assistant Assessor of this District, show the receipts of the Opera House for 1866 to have been $71,929 and of the Theatre for the same period, $63,354. Two per cent. of these amounts went to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Our Railroads.—Here, in the land of Penn, where the first railroad in this country was constructed, 4937 miles are now in operation, which cost $210,080,000.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE.—A Farm of about 88 acres in Union Township, Allegheny county, Pa., situate about four miles from the city on the Washington Pike. The improvements are a large two story brick Dwelling House with 12 rooms, a two-story Spring House, a Carriage House, a large Lumber Room, a No. 1 Frame Bank Barn, with stabling sufficient for 50 head of cattle. MISCELLANEOUS.

PURE CALIFORNIA WINES.

GURNER & CO.,

No. 80 Cedar St., New York,

Offer for sale these valuable Wines, which are gaining public favor with astonishing rapidity, and whose unprecedented and unrivalled popularity is not without merit. They have only to be fairly tested to give them the preference over all others. As a purifier of blood they excel all other Wines, and the numerous certificates which have voluntarily been tendered from the most eminent physicians, as well as gentlemen in every position in life, are proof conclusive that these Wines are useful in all cases for which they are recommended.

The following brands are now offered by us. They comprise all the varieties now grown in the State suitable for sale:

WHITE, or HOCK WINE—Of a light straw colored, very delicate and fine flavored.
CLARET—A superior wine for table use.
ANGELICA—A rich and naturally sweet wine, much admired by ladies, and valuable in the sick chamber, as it makes fine wheys and jellies. It is a fine dessert wine, and well adapted for Communion purposes.
MUSCATEL—A light colored, highly aromatic wine. Very similar to the celebrated Tokay.
PORT—Deep red color, fine flavor, and in many respects similar to the old wines of Lisbon.
GRAPE BRANDY—The pure distillation of our wines.
WINE BITTERS—A very agreeable tonic and a sure remedy for the diarrhea.

This is one of the most valuable combinations of a useful and an agreeable beverage that has ever been offered to the public. Millions of bottles were sold throughout the North during the last four years, and wherever introduced it has proved a welcome addition to the invalid table, the family circle, and the bachelor's sideboard. Ladies who have lost strength and appetite, and suffer from nausea, vomiting and vertigo; gentlemen who "don't feel very well" just before breakfast or dinner, whose stomachs are out of order, and whose systems are generally deranged; mothers weaning children and suffering from general debility; children of sickly nature and sour, dyspeptic constitutions; travelers who have occasion to change their water; and all who live in malarious districts and are subject to miasmatic influences, will find it one of the most valuable invigorators that can be taken.

It was used very extensively in 1861, with such general satisfaction that in offering it to the public now we deem it unnecessary to publish any of the many certificates that we have received, testifying in the very strongest terms in its favor. All that we can say is to guarantee that we will pledge ourselves to furnish an article PURE AND UNADULTERATED.

It has been given to little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill has been exhausted, has been entirely restored. She began with but a teaspoonful a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased and she is now well.

VERDICT IN THE RAPE CASE.

The jury in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Michael Sullivan, indicted for rape, on oath of Maggie Mitchell on Wednesday morning returned a verdict of "not guilty." Sullivan was accordingly discharged by proclamation.

KENNEDY-SCHOYER LIBEL CASE.

A jury was called in the case of the Commonwealth vs. John B. Kennedy, of the Republic editorial staff; indictment libel; S. Schoyer, jr., Esq., prosecutor, John H. Hampton, Thomas M. Marshall, and F. H. Collier, Esq's., represented the Commonwealth, and M. Swartzwelder and P. C. Shannon, Esq's., the defendant.

The indictment, found at the present term, is based upon an article in the Republic newspaper of August 11th, 1866, alleged to contain a false, wicked, malicious, and defamatory libel of and concerning the the prosecutor, designed to blacken his reputation "concerning his conduct and management of the business of carrying on a certain newspaper called The Pittsburgh Gazette, whilst the said Solomon Schoyer was connected with said newspaper, which said wicked, malicious and defamatory libel was of the tenor and effect as follows:

"CAPTAIN SAMUEL RIDDLE.—Some one inflicts upon the readers of the Chronicle last evening a most fulsome puff of Sam. Riddle. He speaks of his superior capacity for business, as ensuring success in any undertaking. The writer of the article in question is evidently not posted. This fellow Riddle undertook to run the Gazette machine. He got up a kind of Gift Concert Lottery Arrangement, by which he and the little Shylock Sol, diddled those who were associated with them out of some fifty or sixty thousand dollars, and bankrupted the concern, so that it went begging for a purchaser. Ask the holders of these certificates of stock what they think of Sam's business qualifications. He may be a good "radical postmaster, but he can't run a newspaper or keep a hotel."

The indictment contained two counts, the first setting forth a portion of the alleged libel, with the inuendo, and the second gives it without the inuendo.

Mr. Swartzwelder moved to quash, for the following reasons:

First—The alleged libel as set forth in the first and second counts of the indictment, was not of and concerning Solomon Schoyer.

Second—There is no averment in the introductory part of the indictment, averring that Solomon Schoyer was engaged in the business of conducting and managing the publication of the Gazette newspaper.

Fourth—Therefore the inuendo has nothing preceding it upon which to rest or explain, its office being only to point out and refer to matter already expressed.

After brief argument the Court decided the third reason assigned would hold good under the common law rule.

Mr. Hampton, for the Commonwealth, moved to amend the indictment, and the Court made an order, viz: It appearing that the indictment is informal in not stating by way of averment or colloquium that Solomon Schoyer was engaged, &c., as stated in the second reason assigned for the motion to quash, the District Attorney is directed forthwith to amend the indictment so that it shall set out and contain an amendment or colloquium to that effect, and the defendant directed to plead to the indictment as so amended.

The defended plead not guilty, the jury were sworn, and the case proceeded.

Mr. Hampton opened for the Commonwealth, and read to the jury section 24th of the Penal Code: "If any person shall write, print, publish or exhibit any malicious or defamatory libel, tending either to blacken the memory of one who is dead, or the reputation of one who is alive, and thereby exposing him to public hatred, contempt or ridicule, such person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction, be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or undergo an imprisonment not exceeding twelve months, or both, or either, at the discretion of the Court."

Solomon Schoyer, Jr., Esq., the prosecutor, was called and testified—In August last I resided in Wilkins township; I am a member of the bar. [Produced copy of Republic of August 11th, 1866, containing the alleged libellous article.]

Mr. Hampton proposed to prove that on the occasion of N. P. Sawyer Esq., ostensible editor of the Republic, being called for sentence, having pleaded nolle contendere to an indictment for libel, predicated upon the article in question, the defendant stated to the Court, under oath, that he wrote and published the libel charged, was responsible for its publication, and was sorry he could not stand in Mr. Saywer's place in Court and answer for it.

Mr. Swartzwelder objected, the defendant at the time being under duress, and obliged to tell the whole truth.

Mr. Hampton contended that the defendant was not under duress, his attendance as a witness not having been compelled by subpœna, nor could one have been allowed, Mr. Sawyer having been tried and called for sentence. Besides, defendant had volunteered the statement that he had written and published the libel, and that he regretted he was not in a position to answer for it instead of Mr. Sawyer.

After some further remarks in opposition to the offer, the Court said that in cases of evidence being desired prior to sentence, subpœna would be allowed, and for present purposes it would be assumed there had been in the case of the defendant. He was sworn "to make true answers to such questions as might be put," and could have answered "yes," or "no," but he went further and chose to go outside of the facts of the case in hearing. The objection was overruled.

Mr. Schoyer continued his testimony—Defendant said he wrote the article in the Republic. I was connected with the Gazette, in different capacities, from 1850 to 1857, most of the time as city editor; from 1860 to the early part of 1864 I was one of the firm of S. Riddle & Co., as owners of the Gazette; and in 1864 became a holder of stock in the Gazette Association, as also did Mr. Riddle. In the expression "little Shylock Sol," I believe I was referred to.

The Court, at this point, took a recess until two o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Proof of the publication of the alleged libellous article was made by the production of a copy of the Republic.

Cross-examination of Mr. Schoyer—Defendant said he wrote and published the article; am clear that he said he wrote it, but not so clear that he said he published it. He said this in answer to an interrogatory by S. H. Geyer, Esq. It was not a direct answer to the question propounded. The substance of defendant's statement was that he wrote and published the article without the knowledge of Mr. Sawyer; cannot give his precise words. Got the copy of the Republic produced from Mr. John Dalzell, student in Mr. Hampton's office; do not know that Mr. Kennedy is not the publisher of the Republic; do not know what position he occupies. The firm of S. Riddle & Co. was composed of Russell Errett, James M'Crum, Samuel Riddle, Robert Riddle and myself. This firm continued from 1864 until the sale to the "Gazette Association." I think Mr. Riddle was Postmaster of Allegheny City whilst a member of the firm.

Question by counsel—Were you not solicitor of the city of Allegheny in 1864? or in what year did you occupy such position?

Objection sustained by the Court. It was not proper cross-examination.

Witness continued—It was in the month of February, 1864, that I changed my relation to the GAZETTE, to that of a stockholder. There were subscriptions made to a corporation for the purpose of publishing the GAZETTE to which the firm of S. Riddle & Co. were subscribers.

Question by counsel—Who got up this corporation? Objection.

Witness—The corporation was gotten up under the General Manufacturing law of 1863.

Question—What was the capital stock? how many shares? Objection sustained.

Witness—Think the libel refers to me from the use of the word "Sol," and also for the reason of my having been connected with Mr. Riddle in the Gazette. For no other reason, nor from any facts referred to, for there are no facts in the article. Did not hear defendant state that he had any malice in writing the article. Listened very attentively to what he said.

Mr. Swartzwelder, to the Court—Would this be proper cross-examination. How many stockholders were they?

Judge Stowe—I think not.

Thomas B. Hamilton, sworn—I am a member of the bar. Defendant was called as a witness, and exonerated Mr. Sawyer from the writing of the article. He said that he had ordered it to be set up, or put up; that Mr. Sawyer was not there, and that the only thing he (defendant) regretted was that he was not in a position to defend himself and prove the facts; he repeated this several times, taking the blame upon himself and exonerating Mr. Sawyer; he also stated that Mr. Sawyer had stopped the issue of a portion of the edition of the Republic. Don't remember of defendant excusing himself for publishing the article, except to say that it was an answer to a squib in another paper.

Harry Campbell, sworn—In August last resided in the city. (Read the article in the Republic.) Saw this the day after its publication; thought it referred to Solomon Schoyer and Samuel Riddle. In passing Mr. Schoyer's office, believe I asked him if he had seen the article.

Cross-examination—Was induced to think the article referred to Mr. Schoyer from the word "Sol," and his former connection with the GAZETTE. I was connected with the GAZETTE establishment some years ago, but not at the time Mr. Schoyer was.

J. Heron Foster, sworn—My business is editing the daily Dispatch. Have known Mr. Schoyer some years. Know defendant. Saw the Republic containing the article in question on file in my office. To my mind the parties referred to were Mr. Samuel Riddle, postmaster of Allegheny, and Mr. Solomon Schoyer.

Cross-examined—The language of the article induced me to think Mr. Schoyer was referred to; the word "Sol" by which he was known, and the fact that he was connected with Mr. Riddle in the "GAZETTE Association," which I looked upon as a sort of lottery as far as dividends were concerned.

James Mills, editor of the Leader in August last, had read the article in the Republic and supposed that Mr. Schoyer was referred to. Mr. Kennedy was connected with the Republic, and saw him engaged in the usual duties of an editor. In the absence of Mr. Sawyer, Mr. Kennedy was the managing man.

George W. Leonard, sworn—Am connected with the Republic as one of the reporters; was in August last; Mr. Kennedy is employed by the month to write for the paper.

Scott Ferguson, member of the bar, testified that he saw the alleged libellous article, and believed it referred to Messrs. Riddle and Schoyer for the same reason as stated by other witnesses.

James Mills recalled—After reading the article had a conversation with defendant in regard to it, brought about in speaking of the suit against Mr. Sawyer. It took place in the office of the Republic. It was a discussion concerning the truth of the charges.

Question—Did he state who had written and published the article?

Witness—He stated in effect that he had written the article; don't know that anything was said concerning the publication; among printers writing and publishing are considered to mean the same, in a certain sense.

Question—Did he assign any reason for writing the article? Ans.—Can't say that he did.

John Dalzell, sworn—[Copy of Republic shown.] Procured a copy of this issue at the office on Fifth st. Left it in Mr. Moreland's office with another one exactly like it. Gave this (one shown) to Mr. Schoyer, but can't say it is the one I purchased.

John H. Kerr, also purchased a copy of the Republic, containing the article, and left it in Mr. Moreland's office.

The Commonwealth rested their case.

THE DEFENSE.

Hon. P. C. Shannon opened for the defense. He stated that the defendant, in admitting that he had written the alleged libel, in exculpation of Mr. Sawyer, having been sworn to tell the truth, twice or thrice stated that he had no malice. At the time of the publication complained of, it would be shown that both Mr. Riddle and Mr. Schoyer held, or had recently held, public positions, and hence were the proper subject of comment. As journalists, they were quasi public men. If there was any libel in the article in question, it was upon Mr. Riddle, not upon Mr. Schoyer. The fact, would be shown that Mr. Sawyer, the editor and proprietor of the Republic, had been sentenced upon an indictment charging him with a libel of and concerning Messrs. Riddell and Schoyer, contained in the self-same article, for the writing and publishing of which Mr. Kennedy was subsequently indicted and now on trial at the instance of one of the parties complainant against Mr. Sawyer. If the truth would be allowed to be given in evidence, said Mr. Shannon, facts would be shown substantiating the charges made.

Thomas Costamagna, sworn—Mr. Schoyer was one of the proprietors of the GAZETTE from 1861 to 1864, when the establishment was sold to a corporation.

Ques.—How was the corporation formed? Objected to.

Mr. Swartzwelder proposed to show such facts and circumstances in connection with the management of the "GAZETTE Association" as would repel the presumption of malice on the part of defendant in writing the article in question. He had supposed that Mr. Schoyer, or the counsel representing him, would not object to such a proposition, since it was charged that the assertions that he, with Mr. Riddle, had "got up a kind of gift concert lottery arrangement," by which they "diddled those who were associated with them out of fifty or sixty thousand dollars," and "bankrupted" the GAZETTE "concern," so "that it went begging for a purchaser," were untrue in point of fact, and which were the very ground-work of the alleged libel. On the contrary, he supposed Mr. Schoyer would have courted the investigation, in order that he might wipe out the calumny upon his character. If the defendant had heard assertions made that the stockholders had been "diddled" as stated, and believed them to be true, he had a right to make the publication, and hence the offer to rebut the presumption of malice. Mr. Swartzwelder made a very clear and able argument upon the question, and in conclusion expressed the hope that the Court would not give its decision without due consideration, for which there was opportunity, the hour of adjournment having arrived.

Counsel for the prosecution, while clearly of the opinion that the evidence proposed to be offered was improper, declared that if Mr. Kennedy, the defendant, would state in writing, over his own signature, that the statements in the printed article were true, they would not object to the proposition made, and permit him to offer the truth in evidence. To which the defense assented.

Court adjourned till nine o'clock Thursday morning.

Goldsboro' Prize Fight.

The Harrisburg Telegraph says: The notice we recently published, announcing a prize fight to take place to-day at Marysville, caused the roughs to change their base, and the fight took place to-day at or near Goldsboro', York county. The combatants were Sam Collier, of Baltimore, and McLeod, of New York. Collier, accompanied by several personal friends, arrived at Goldsboro' on Sunday night. Last night the train from Baltimore brought several hundred rowdies to the same place. No less than seven robberies were committed on the train, and the "plugs" were armed to the teeth, and the lives of the men in charge of the train were endangered. McLeod came from New York yesterday, and was accompanied by a large number of the offscourings of that city. No less than thirteen robberies are reported to have been committed in the cars between New York and Harrisburg. The fight took place in an open field one-half mile above Goldsboro'. Forty-seven rounds were fought in fifty-eight minutes. Collier knocked down McLeod three times and was declared the victor.

Division No. 42.

Pittsburgh Division, No. 42, of the Sons of Temperance, is flourishing and increasing in the most encouraging manner. So largely has the list of membership increased that the hall hitherto occupied by the Division, at the corner of Grant street and Diamond alley, became entirely too small for the accommodation of the meetings.

Mozart Hall, on Seventh near Grant street, has now been secured by the members as a regular meeting place. The first meeting of the Division in the new hall was held last Thursday evening, at which time a very large attendance of the membership was observed, and a number of candidates were initiated. It is designed to throughly equip and furnish Mozart Hall, at an early day, as a permanent meeting place for the order in Pittsburgh.

The second meeting will be held in the new hall this evening, and should be fully attended.

Snowballing Again.

Yesterday afternoon officer Joseph Cupples observed a drunken man named Philip Seaton engaged with a party of boys in snowballing people on Penn street, in the Fifth ward. He ordered the man away, but he refused to go. He was informed what the consequences would be unless he promptly tore himself away from the scene of the enchanting sport. He concluded he couldn't tear himself away, and commenced to act in a still more disorderly manner. Thereupon the officer arrested him and started with him for the lock-up. The prisoner came very quietly until they had reached the junction of Smithfield and Liberty streets, when he commenced to fight desperately. He continued his demonstrations for some time, but was at length brought safely to the lock-up, where he now remains.

Wife Desertion.—Monora Dillon appeared before the Mayor a day or two since and made information charging her husband, Michael Dillon, with desertion. A warrant was issued and placed in the hands of officer A. J. Moon, who yesterday proceeded to Mansfield station on the Steubenville Railroad, after the accused. He captured him and brought him to the Mayor's office, making the return trip on foot. A hearing was had and the prisoner held to bail in the sum of five hundred dollars to answer at Court.

Stolen.—A one horse sleigh, belonging to a countryman who was stopping at the corner of Ferry and Fourth streets, at the house called the "Farmers' Inn," was left standing in front of the barn belonging to that house, on Tuesday night, and was stolen by some person or persons not having the fear of the law in full view. The stolen vehicle had a red body and black buggy shafts.

Robbery.—Some unknown thieves broke into the store room of Mr. James H. Aiken, Fifth street, night before last, and robbed it of a small lot of goods. The thieves are suspected and will probably be arrested to-day.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, Jan. 1, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as reported by Robinson, McClean & Co., were as follows: Gold, 136¾@136⅝; Eighty-one bonds, 108; Five Twenties, old 107½; Five Twenties, '65, 105½; Five Twenties, new, 104½; Seven Thirties, 104⅝; Michigan Southern R. R., 80⅝; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 91; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 102¼; Erie, Railroad, 65⅛; Western Union Telegraph Co., 46⅞; Chicago & Rock Island, 102¼; Chicago and North Western R. R., 43½; do preferred, 81.

The failure of Lyday & Chorpening, oil dealers and speculators, occasioned considerable talk in financial circles to-day though, to many, the affair did not cause much surprise. A telegram from Springfield, Ohio, the home of Mr. Chorpening, to the Cincinnati Gazette, reports the liabilities of the firm at $300,000, $100,000 of which are assigned to Pittsburgh. The immediate cause of the failure may be attributed to unfortunate speculations in oil and oil stocks, both of which depreciated in value most disastrously.

—The amount of legal tender notes outstanding on the 1st inst. was a little over five hundred and twenty-five millions of dollars, or one hundred and thirty seven millions less than the original issue. The Secretary of the Treasury has the right to continue this reduction at a rate not exceeding four millions per month, if convenient or advisable; but this is his extreme authority, and even this is placed in his discretion. It is now believed that he has recently made up his mind that any fixed period for a return to specie payments—in favor of which, by the way, there is less of popular sentiment throughout the country—is impracticable until all the Southern States are brought into full political line.

—The House refused to suspend its rules in order to entertain Mr. Wilson's financial resolution which opposes any greater curtailment of the currency than $4,000,000 per month, and favors the issue of legal tender notes without interest in lieu of an amount of compound interest notes falling due with the year, and in excess of the four millions authorized to be withdrawn.

—The Hartford Courant gives a list of 15 of the soundest and most wealthy Insurance companies in the country, for the purpose of showing how unprofitable the insurance business has been of late. In this list representing $13,000,000 of capital, only three have their capital unimpaired by losses, and they have only a surplus of about $79,000 on a capital of about $1,000,000. As an offset to this, it must be remembered that the Insurance Companies have, until recently, been making large gains, and that their present capitals frequently represent earnings declared on stock dividends.

—A St. Louis telegram, under date of Monday says: Another sale of the Iron Mountain and Cairo and Fulton railroads has just been made. The parties who purchased the road from the State are McKay and Reed. They gave $550,000 for the Iron Mountain and $350,000 for the Cairo and Fulton road. A few days ago they sold out to Mr. Thomas Allen, President of the Southern Railroad Company, for $1,275,000, a clear profit of $375,000. The first purchasers were placed in possession on Saturday, and immediately gave the road over to the second purchasers.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, January 16, 1867.

The produce markets present no new characteristics worthy of special notice. Dullness seems to prevail in nearly every department of trade, and worse than all, there are no indications at present of any immediate improvement. The money market is tight, and as collections are exceedingly difficult to make, some of our business men, in good standing, are cramped, and this, as a matter of course, has a tendency to retard operations, and squelch out anything like a speculative feeling.

GRAIN—Wheat is more active but unchanged; sale of 1000 bushels No. 1 Spring, to the trade, at $2,55; 150 bushels No. 1 Extra at $2,65, and 1 car Winter at $2,85. Oats dull but held pretty firmly at 52 to 53, in store, and 49 to 50, on track. Corn may be quoted at 73 to 75, on track, and 80 to 85, in store. Sale of 1 car spring Barley, to arrive, at 90. Rye is quiet; may be quoted at $1,20 to $1,25.

FLOUR—Is quiet but firm at former quotations—$12¼ to $12¾ for fair to choice Spring Wheat; $13,50 to $14,50 for Winter Wheat; and $16 to $17 for fancy brands. Sales of 100 bbls "Bartlett" reported at $12,50. Rye Flour is quoted at $8. Buckwheat Flour is dull, and offered pretty freely at $5,50 per cwt.

PROVISIONS—As yet, there is little or no Bacon ready for market, and we hear of no transactions in Bulkmeat. Lard is quoted at 12¾ to 13 for prime kettle rendered, in tierces. We can report a sale of 40 barrels new Mess Pork at $21½—to go out of this market.

SEEDS—Flaxseed has still further declined, and dealers and crushers are now offering but $2,50. There is next to nothing doing in Clover or Timothy Seeds.

SORGHUM—Is quiet and unchanged; we can repot regular sales at 50 to 55, and 60c, as to quality.

MILL FEED—Sale of 7 tons Shorts at $1,15. Middlings may be quoted at $1,90 to $2 and Oil Meal at $2,20 to $2,25. Seconds—none in market—nominal at $1,40 to $1,50.

APPLES—In good demand, and the market may be quoted steady at $3,50 to $4,50 per bbl., according to quality.

HAY—We have but a single sale to record—one car load prime baled at $22. The only new feature to notice in regard to this article, is the fact that the arrivals are falling off.

DRIED FRUIT—Dull but unchanged; small sales at 9 to 10 for Apples, and 15c to 20c for Peaches.

POTATOES—Continue exceedingly dull, the demand being very much restricted. Small sales of prime Peach Blows, in store, at 90c per bush.

BUTTER—There is no improvement to note in the demand, and with a big supply and large receipts, the market is dull with adrooping tendency. We continue to quote at 28 to 32, for fair to prime Roll.

EGGS—There is no improvement to note in the demand, but prices are barely maintained—may be quoted at 20 for limed, and 28c to 30 for fresh packed.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, January 16, 1867.

CRUDE—There is no improvement to note in the demand, and the market is dull and neglected with a drooping tendency, and there is scarcely enough doing to establish quotations. We can report a sale of two car loads of Smith's Ferry at 7¾, delivered, bbls returned—may be fairly quoted at 12½, packages included. For spring delivery, there seems to be more anxiety on the part of holders to contract, and refiners seem less disposed to buy at present asking figures. We hear of offers to sell at 8½ to 9, in bulk, and offers to buy at 8. The demand for spot oil continues very light, both shippers and consumers having apparently retired for the present.

REFINED—There is a perceptible improvement to note in the demand, principally on speculation and almost entirely for future delivery, and, if anything, prices are a shade better. We can report a sale of 3000 bbls—500 to be delivered in Philadelphia each month, commencing with June at 34½, and advancing a half a cent per gallon every month; also 3000—same delivery, commencing with 500 for May, at 33; 500 for June, at 32½; 500 for July, at 34, 500 for August, at 34½; 500 for September, at 35; and 500 for October, at 35½; also, 500 for April, at 31; 500 for May at 32; 500 for June, at 33; and 500 for February, at 29—making a total of eight thousand barrels reported. There were negotiations pending for other lots, but none of these at last accounts had been consumated.

—Since the above was put in type, we have the following additional sales reported: 500 for March, at 30; 500 for April, at 31; 500 for May, at 32; 500 for June, at 33; 500 for July, at 34; 1500 for May, at 32; 500 for May, at 33; 500 for May, at 33; 500 for April, at 31; 500 for May, at 32; 500 for June, at 33; 500 for July, at 34; 1500 for May, at 32; and 5000, running from April to August, on private terms—making a total of twenty-one thousand barrels reported to-day.

RIVER NEWS.

The Monongahela river ice reached here about eleven o'clock on Tuesday night, and stopped running, save as "slush," about three o'clock the following morning. The ice is piled up at different places along the shore to a considerable height, and while passing the landing here, it crushed steamboats pretty severely for a time, though, with the exception of breaking a good many derricks, and parting an almost innumerable number of lines, none of them sustained any damage.

Two loaded coal flats were broken from their moorings, and swept over dam No. 1. Four are now lying in the channel below, two of them sunk so near the lock that the gates cannot be open. The Ormsby Coal Company lost several barges a little further down. A number of rafts were carried away from the saw mills of Mittensive & Co., and towboats are running around below, trying to capture the fugitives. Theo will probably succeed.

The Monongahela is reported clear of ice up as far as Brownsville, but above that point, at last accounts, it was still closed. We presume, although we do not speak advisedly, that the Brownsville packets, will, at once, resume their regular trips to and from that place.

The Kate Robinson, Capt. Robt. Robinson, with Capt. Andy Beers, in the office, is filling up steadily, and will soon be ready to take her departure for New Orleans.

The Glendale, Capt. Hare, and the Kate Putnam, Capt. Lightner, are announced for St. Louis, as is also the Maggie Hays, for Cincinnati and Louisville.

The river was about at a stand last evening, with scant nine feet in the channel. The weather has moderated again, and last evening we had quite a snow storm.

The Leonidas, Capt. McGowan, will positively leave for New Orleans this forenoon, and passengers and shippers should bear this fact in mind.

The Ida Rees arrived at Marietta on Monday, en route from Cincinnati to Pittsburgh, and the Petrolia No. 2 floated past Pomeroy in the ice the same day. We clip the following from the Cincinnati Commercial, of Tuesday:

At Falmouth, 30 miles from Covington, the ice in the Licking River has broken and the river is rising rapidly. This may make the ice in the Licking soften and run out. The Maysville Packet left for Maysville yesterday. The Emerald, Armadillo, and Emma No. 3, will all leave for New Orleans this evening. The Silver Moon will leave for Memphis to-day, and will be followed by the Darling. The Mollie Norton will leave for the Kanawha river this day at 12 o'clock. The Robert Burns, from Memphis, arrived at Louisville yesterday, and is due here to-day. All the steamers recently laid up in the mouth of Green river for ice, are again under way. All the steamers are preparing to leave forthwith, including several for Memphis and New Orleans. The Louisville Mail Line steamers will continue their daily trips to Louisville to-day. Captain Kelley left for Cleveland last night. He will return here in a couple of weeks. Mr. Hambleton is superintending the construction of his patent rudder.

PARKERSBURG, January 14.—7 p. m.—The Little Kanawha is rising fast, and the ice is running out rapidly. Seventeen boats, containing oil, have been carried away by the ice, and it is feared that many more will be lost. The towboat Coal Valley broke loose and floated down the Ohio, together with her barges, but was caught by the steamer G. W. Thompson and brought back safely. The Ohio is rising slowly.

Minneapolis Chronicle says that Capt. A. J. Chapman, of the tow steamer St. Anthony Falls, in making his experiments in towing rafts from St. Anthony Falls to St. Louis, has clearly demonstrated, not only the practicability, but the utility of such enterprises. By towing the rafts a mile an hour is made, or twenty-four miles a day; a great saving in hands, besides not near as much danger in storms and running the rafts on the bars. It is highly probable that in time most of the rafts will be towed by steamers, instead of being floated with the current and propelled by oars.

Says the St. Louis Democrat of Monday: Dispatches from Cairo announce the sinking of the Sam Gaty at Devil's Island. The circumstances are too vague to enable us to judge whether she can be raised or not. She was bound hence to New Orleans, Capt. David H. Silver, her owner, in command. The Sam Gaty was remarkable for the great amount of freight she carried on a small amount of water. Her value was greatly enhanced by this fact. The Gaty was built in March, 1860, and cost $35,000, actual tonage 750. She is probably insured in this city for near what would be considered her worth. She passed her career principally as a St. Louis and Missouri river packet.
